The paper "Of the People, for the People and by the People."

ESTABLISHED 1866.

OCALA, FLORIDA FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1901

DOLLAR A YEAR.

At this season the housekeeper must look specially after the baking powder.

As she cannot make good cake with bad eggs, no more can she make cake that is light, delicious and dainty with inferior baking powder.

Royal Baking Powder is indispensable for the preparation of the finest food. It imparts that peculiar lightness, sweetness and flavor noticed in the finest cake, biscuit, doughnuts, crusts, etc., which expert bakers say is unobtainable by the use of any other leavening agent.

The "Royal Baker and Pastry Cook"—containing over 800 most practical and valuable cooking receipts—free to every patron. Send postal card with your full address.

There are cheap baking powders, made from alum, but they are exceedingly harmful to health. Their astringent and cauterizing qualities add a dangerous element to food.

SARA ELIZABETH HARRIS, Local Editor.

They never fail who die
For a great cause. The black may soak their gore
Their heads may sicken in the sun, their limbs
Be strung on city gates and castle walls,
But still their spirit walks abroad. Though years
Elapse and others share as dark a doom,
They but augment the deep and sweeping thoughts
Which overpower all others and conduct
The world at last to freedom. —Byron.

Death of Mr. Mellon.

John A. Mellon, of the Tampa Tribune staff, died in that city of consumption last Saturday morning.

Mr. Mellon came to Florida several years ago and settled in this city.

He was associated for awhile in the real estate business with Mr. J. T. Lancaster, and afterwards became editor of the Morning News and subsequently of the Evening Star.

About three years ago he left this city for Tampa to accept a position on the Tribune and was on that paper when he died.

Mr. Mellon was a native of Beaver county, Pa., and before coming to Florida conducted the Beaver Falls Star. It was while in that work that he attacked severely Senator Quay, the republican leader in the campaign of 1892. As a result of the attack he was sued for libel and sentenced to jail. He served three weeks in jail, when he was released through the efforts of the state press. During his confinement he continued to edit his paper, and never lost a moment from the fight he had begun.

Mr. Mellon was a consistent member of the Baptist church, and the funeral occurred from the First Baptist church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, and was largely attended by his numerous friends in that city.

Special Meetings.

For the past week Dr. C. P. Williamson, of Atlanta, Ga., has been preaching in Ocala at the Christian church. He is an able exponent of the Bible, and long experience as a teacher and minister has eminently fitted him for the important position of a leader in religious thought. Under his treatment the intricate passages are illustrated and taught with such clearness and ease that one is surprised that he had not seen its truth and beauty before. His visit to our city will certainly bring an uplift to those who were fortunate enough to hear his sermons and series of Bible studies.

A special feature of the meetings was the afternoon Bible readings and devotional services.

We regret that his stay was necessarily so short. He returns to Atlanta Friday, and on March first goes to Richmond, Va. to begin his work as president of a college, which he expects to give the remainder of his life.

Major Burford Gets the Brush.

M. Donald E. Melver and Mr. J. L. Smaok got up a fox hunt in Major Burford's honor last Saturday night and the major is now carrying the brush of the fleet-footed reynard as a result of the night's sport.

The major is a gallant veteran of the Mexican war, yet he kept at the heels of the hounds to the "death" as actively as the younger members of the party.

The night was a beautiful one and the major says he never enjoyed a hunt more in Tennessee, where he formerly kept a pack of hounds for the purpose.

Fox hunting is now, and has always been, regarded as fine sport, and should attract visitors to Florida more than golf playing or quail shooting.

A State Fair.

The Florida press is agitating the question of a state fair to be held in Florida some time in the near future. We think the suggestion a wise one, and should meet with a ready response from every Floridian. The advertisement it would give to Florida products, and the land on which these agricultural products were raised, would more than compensate for the expense of a state fair. In the second place the farming element would be wonderfully stimulated, for we entertain grave doubts as to whether the majority of our farmers really know the extraordinary resources of their own state. Some think oranges, pineapples and vegetables are the only resources of revenue, in an agricultural sense, and it is well that they should be made to realize that these are only a fractional part of Florida's products. Everything would receive a great up-lift, and renewed hope would be inspired in every industrial department. But if we have the fair let it be no half way or shoddy exhibition. Florida, though young, is in many respects the foremost state of the South, and an exposition of her resources should be commensurate with the dignity, intelligence and thrift of our commonwealth. The tobacco industry has grown to such proportions that Florida is now being recognized as a tobacco state, and the fair would have a tendency to develop that particular industry to a remarkable degree. Then there is the phosphate industry, which has enriched, and is now enriching, certain portions of the state, and what better way could this vast business be advertised than by exhibiting at a state fair? But time would fail us, and space would not permit our going into details, and describing the hundred and one other industries, such as fruit growing, the cultivation of cassava and vegetables of every description, the fish and cattle industries, etc., but every man in Florida who can read, and many who can not, know that these are all here, and that if grouped together they would make a display such as would cause our bosoms to heave with pride. The Advocate votes for a state fair, and we think we are with the majority.—East Coast Advocate.
